ODDEI

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON AT TACOMA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

MARGARITO LEMUS ESTRADA,

Defendant.

Case No. CR10-5373RBL

ORDER

THIS MATTER comes on before the above-entitled Court upon Defendant Margarito Lemus Estrada's Motion for Order Compelling Production of Discovery [Dkt. #244] as specifically joined by Defendant Alicia Alavarez [Dkt. #266] and Defendant Hirbit Garcia Pena [Dkt. #268]. Having considered the entirety of the records and file herein, the Court finds and rules as follows:

The defendants' motion seeks a wide variety of evidence, some that is discoverable, some that is not. To the extent the evidence is discoverable, such as Brady and Giglio evidence, the government's response to the motion indicates that it has provided Brady materials and is not aware of any Giglio evidence. The government indicates it will continue to provide Brady materials when and if it discovers more, and will provide Giglio evidence if it uncovers any. Furthermore the government has provided NCIC records and will provide TECS records of the defendants.

To the extent the defendants seek "production of all information relating to this case and related investigations from all government databases," it is over-broad. See Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a). The government's response to the defendants motion indicates that it has provided the defendants the information to date they are entitled to under the Rule, and in some instances, more so. The Court agrees that the government has met its discovery obligations thus far. If a later discovery dispute arises, the defendants may bring a new motion to compel production of discovery, or may orally inform the Court of continuing discovery issues at the November 18, 2010 motions hearing. Therefore, Defendants' Motion for Order Compelling Production of Discovery [Dkt. #'s 244, 266, 268] is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

The Clerk shall send uncertified copies of this order to all counsel of record, and to any party appearing pro se.

Dated this 8th day of November, 2010.
